Elsewhere we print a full report of th naugural Address of President LINCOLN. No public document for years has been ooked for with so much anxiety by the eople, for all have felt that the moment is question of PEACE or WAR was to e decided by it.

And as the lightning yesterday bore th ords we print as they fell from the lips of the President, to every town and city in the country, millions of freemen heard them with such feelings as only the pa triot can experience at the announcement that one section of his country is to meet nother section in battle's stern array, tha rother must meet brother with sword nd bayonet, and that our fair fields and eautiful plains must be drenched in the lood of the honest husbandmen who are now cultivating them.

We have heard but one cpinion of the inaugural expressed; and that opinion is, that it is a Declaration of War.

We do not think any other construction can be put on it; for, though it bears some races of the Jesuitism of their Premier, t is too clear, too direct, too explicit to be nisunderstood, or to leave room for hope Its main positions may be summed up in few words: 1. He considers the Chicago platform as a 'LAW" to his party and himself, to be erried out in its letter and spirit. 2. He will carry out the Constitution, as

as one of the representatives of Kentucky his party understand it, and protect the rights of the States, as asserted by Massain the "Peace Conference." nusets and Illinois. We understand that he regards the actio of the Conference as amounting to just 3. He wants the Fugitive Slave Law modified so as to better guard the persons nothing at all, as far as a settlement is conof the free negroes in the slaveholding erned, and consequently thinks it was a failure. 4. He would have it provided by law, hat the clause of the Constitution which seen Mr. Lincoln and conversed with him on national affairs, he entertains anything guarantees that the citizens of each State shall be entitled to all the privileges and but a favorable opinion of the new Presiimmunities of citizens in the several States, shall be enforced. As he differs dent. rom the Dred Scott decision on this sub-Kirby and Dearing caught two slaves who ect, he would doubtless insist on giving the were endeavoring to make their escape from Kentucky. They were a man and a negro voter of Massachusetts all the privleges and immunities of citizenship in

5. He is not willing for the policy of the Government to be fixed by the decisions of the Supreme Court, which, in matters pertaining to public affairs, he would regard as of no more authority than the opinions of six or seven able lawyers in a jail and will remain there until called for private statute.

6. He does not think that the Union i lissolved, maintaining that the Confedera v is indissoluble. 7. He holds that the action of the peopl the secoded States is legally void and of effect, and should not be recognized by he Federal authorities. 8. Any acts of the Government of the Confederate States which may be at variance with the laws or policy of the Government at Washington will be treated as insurrectionary and revolutionary. 9. Regarding the Union as unbroken, he aill take care that the laws of the governent over which he presides shall be faith fully executed in "ALL THE STATES." 10. He will collect all duties and impost in the ports of the seceded States. 11. "THE POWER CONFIDED TO ME him] WILL BE USED TO HOLD, OCCU girl. Both were rich in the things of this PY, AND POSSESS [retake] THE PROP. world. Both were happy. The Doctor ERTY AND PLACES BELONGING [that

There is not one word in it from which the patriotic and peace-loving friends of his country can derive consolation.

> equal to the emergency! THEATER-THE FINE OLD ENGLISH COME-OF THE POOR GENTLEMAN, AND THE DRAMA OF THE WRECKERS .- Mr. Elmore's benefit last night was anything but a benefit except in name. From the appearance of the house, we should judge that nearly the entire population of Louisville were busily engaged, probably in reading the inaugural of Mr. Lincoln. We trust that no other benefit of any member of the stock comthat Government is under the control of pany will present such a beggarly account of empty benches. To-night that magnificent old comedy by George Colman, entitled The Poor Gendeman, will be presented with an admirable east, and the bill is rendered still further attractive by the addition of the drama of the Wreckers. Such a bill ought to draw crowded house even in the worst of times and we confidently expect to see a numer ous audience to-night.

She had displayed a great deal of shrewdness in the manner she had passed the forged checks, and was evidently no novice in crime. She had excited the interest of the keeper of the prison in her behalf, by alleging that she was enciente. In consequence of this she had been permitted more privileges in and about the buildings than she otherwise would have enjoyed. And as is too often the case with the class to which she belonged, she abused the confidence placed in her, and took advantage of the kindness shown her. Among those who passed the prison gate frequently during the day, was wrs. Trueman, mother lu-law of Capt. Boyd, the jailor. A few days ago Margaret Brett was missed, and could nowhere be found. After long search and anxious inquiry, it was ascertained that Margaret had fairly outwitted the jailor. Alice Adolphine Schafer, an infant ortenor, and the salient aria which follows it, in a wonderfully courageous way. The execution of these two pieces must be considered as a test, and by it the new singer is to be judged. Miss Kellogg sings admirably well; she has evidently been well taught, and her school and method could not be improved. She lacks artistic preferation sings mechanically and her could not be improved. She lacks artistic inspiration, sings mechanically, and has a high soprano voice, rather thin throughout, and very deficient in the lower register—this latter is perhaps, her greatest defect. Under these circumstances it is quite impossible to make any reliable predictions as to her artistic future. It is not enough in an operatic singer that she Alice Adolphine Schafer, an infant or persons visited at certain periods of their lives by such a series of misfortunes that it is hard for them not to believe in spells, or what the Italians call Jettatura. About three weeks ago, Mr. Joseph B. Aucoin, a respectable citizen of Plattenville, missed one of his children, six years old. He immediately went for it all about the premises, and finally discovered it drowned in the well of his house.

Six or seven days after this sad accident, another child of the same family fell into a large earthenware cistern full of rain water, and would have also perished if a person who happily was passing by had not seen it in time to take him out alive.

The very next afternoon, some one having had occasion to go to an ontbuilding where Mr. Aucoin keeps his corn, and where he had, on the morning of that day, chained a very fine slut of his, found with horror a third child of this unfortunate gentleman-stretched on the floor, in a pool of blood. The poor boy, only ten years old, had been attacked by the mad beast, while he was picking an ear of corn, thrown down, bitten to death, and torn in pieces. The dog was killed on the spot, and poor Mr. Aucoin is entirely disconsolate.—[N. O. Picayune.

In a speech delivered before the "State Rights Club" in Paducah, a few days since, by ED. CROSSLAND, he thus referred to the conduct of the famous Palmetto regiment in the Mexican war:

From a pamphlet published before the last Presidential election, in which the right of secession was discussed at length and with ability, we quote as follows:

The delegates of New York, in their ratification, "declare and make known:"

On every battle field since the days of the Revolution the patriotic sons of South Carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, than those of any other State, and their deeds of chivalric heroism were matter of history. All remember with grateful admiration the group of the Revolution the patriotic sons of South Carolina had been found in greater numbers, according to her population, than the proposed propos Carolina regiment in the war with Mexico.
They went into battle on Taylor's line one "That all power is originally vested in and consequently derived from the people, and that government is instituted by them for their common interest, security, and protection.

"That the powers of government may be reassumed by the people whenever it shall be come meessary to their hoppiness; that every power, jurisdiction, and right, which is not by the said Constitution clearly delegated to the Congress of the United States or the departments of the Government three of the content of the Government states or the departments of the Government three of the constitution clearly delegated to the Congress of the United States or the departments of the Government to lead the deadly charge, but no regiment to lead the deadly charge, but no regiment to whom they may have granted the tame," etc., et waving in the air, and with a shout the South Carolina regiment crossed the field, followed by the Indianians, led the charge, and took the guns, sustaining a terrible loss. In this attack the brave and lament-ed Butler fell from his horse, mortally wounded. Almost the last words he ut-tered were, "For God's sake keep the Pal-metto regiment in front!" What will Mr. Lincoln do with the

It must be observed that these are not proposed amendments to the Constitution, but declarations of right and of common understanding in relation to the meaning of the Constitution. New York proposes her awardments in a separate paper.

Virginia in her ratification declares and makes known—

"That the power granted under the Constitution, being derived from the people of the United States, may be resumed by them, whenever the same shall be pervert."

ST. LOUIS, March 4.—Pursuant to adjournment on Friday evening, the State Convention met at Mercantile Library Hall and was called to order at 10:50 this morning. The Hall was decorated with national flags, and a large eagle placed on the Chairman's stand. The lobby was crowded. A Committee of Thirteen on Federal Relations was appointed. The Convention is now engaged in discussing a proposition to receive Mr. Glenn, the Commissioner from Georgia, with a fair prospect of rejecting it. AMERICAN INS. COMP'Y, YESTERDAY NOON'S DISPATCHES. From Washington. WASBINGTON, March 3 .- An immer WASBINGTON, March 3.—An Immense concourse of spectators are here, especially from the West. Missouri, Kentucky, Virginia, and Indiana are largely represented. Rumors touching the Cabinet appointees are still contradictory. It is understood they will not be announced till after the inaugural.

All the appropriation bills have been Numbers of threatening letters are still sent to Mr. Lincoln, and quietly consigned sent to Mr. Lincoln, and quietly consigned to the flames.

The Hon. John Covode started on Wednesday for New Hampshire to stump the State during the pending canvass.

A dispatch from Montgomery says that the tariff recently enacted by the new Confederacy will be immediately amended so as to impose an export duty of one per c.m. on cotton, tobacco, and rice. All breadstuffs, tea. cotton, meats, and jewelry will be admitted free.

The struggle on Saturday evening, in the presence of Mr. Lincoln, on the Cabinet appointments, was very exciting; the friends of the various aspirants pushing their claims with great vehemence, until the President elect said, "Gentlemen at is evident some one must take the responsibility of these appointments, and I will do it. My Cabinet is complete. The positions are not definitely assigned and will not be until I announce them privately to the gentlemen whom I have selected to be my constitutional advisers." Quiet was immediately restored. Mr. Lincoln then sent to Mr. Seward and submitted to him his inaugural. The Senator concurred heartily in the greater part, but suggested a few modifications which were accepted. sent to Mr. Seward and submitted to him his inaugural. The Senator concurred heartily in the greater part, but suggested a few modifications which were accepted, and the document declared complete. The Maryland delegation has gone home in disgust at Lincoln's determination to put Chase and Blair in the Cabinet. They declared there was no hope of retaining their State in the Union. Lincoln replied empha ically: "Gentlemen, the affair is decided; my Cabinet is formed."

It is runored to-night that a large body of men have come on from Baltimore and Virginia, including a detachment of Plug Uglics.

Fears are still entertained of Lincoln's

Fears are still entertained of Lincoln's safety, but he said to-night, "I am here to take what is my right, and I shall take it. I anticipate no trouble, but should it come I am prepared to meet it."

Five hundred special police have been detailed, including detectives from Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston. A large body of Wide Awakes are also here, said to be thoroughly organized, but make no public demonstration.

From New York.

New York, March 4.—Letters from Montgomery, received at Washington, say that a special envoy left the former place several days ago for the Federal Capital, and is supposed to be there now. He is instructed to present his credentials immediately after the inauguration as Ambassador from the Southern Confederacy, and will ask its recognition by the United States. He will insist upon an immediate answer, and, failing to get it, will retire. His failure to obtain a recognition, it is understood at Montgomery, will be followed by an attack on Forts Sumter and Pickens, and thus an issue of force will be precipitated on the new Administration. Whether this programme will be carried out, depends somewhat, probably, on the character of Mr. Lincoln's inaugural.

Dr. B. Branderin—Dear Sir—In the spring of 1853
I had the misfortune to break my thigh, in consequence of which my constitution became greatly debilitated, and I suffered with great costiveness, attended with disziness and severe pain in the side and oppression of the heart. I was attended by several physicians of this city for three years without obtaining relief, and had despaired of cure till finally I was induced to try your Pills, which almost instantly relieved me, and in a short time completely restored my beatth. I consider time completely restored my health. I consider them the best medicine in the world.

From the same gentleman, April 18th, 1860. Mr. McCorm.c, a neighbor, has been very much benefited by your Ambrosiai 0ii in a case of Rheumatism. I gave some to a lady afflicted with Rheumatism who has not walked a step for 5 or 6 years—3 ottles she says afforded her more relief than an thing else ever used. There was not enough t_n give her a perfect cure, and she is unable to procure it here. Send me some immediately, as I think I can s-ll a quantity here. I have tried it and proved ts efficiency, and must have some for my own fam y at least. J. M. KELLEY.

THE AMALGAMATION OF LANGUAGES. - There is a growing tendency in this age to appropriate the most expressive words of other languages, and aster a while to incorporate them into our own; thus the word Cephalic, which is from the Greek, signifying "for the head," is now becoming popularized in connection with Mr. Spalding's great Head. ache remedy, but it will soon be used in a more sche remedy, but it will soon be used in a more scheral way, and the word Cephalie will become as common as Electrotype and many others whose distinction as foreign words has been worn away by common usage until they seem "native and to the manor born."

HEADACHE is the favorite sign by which nature makes known any deviation whatever from the natural state of the brain, and viewed in this light it tural state of the brain, and viewed in this light it may be looked on as a safeguard intended to give notice of disease which might otherwise escape attention, till too late to be remedied; and its indications should never be nestected. Headaches may be classified under two names, viz: Symptomatic and Idiopathic. Symptomatic Headache is exceedingly common and is the precursor of a great variety of diseases, among which are Apoplexy, Gout, Rheamatism, and all febrile diseases. Inits nervous form it is sympathetic of disease on the stomach constituting sick headache, of hepatic disease contituting bilious headache, of worms, constitution and other disorders of the bowels, as well as renal and uterine billous headache, of worms, constipation and other disorders of the bowels, as well as renal and uterine affections. Diseases of the heart are very frequently attended with Headaches: Ansemia and plethora are also affections which frequently occasion Headache. Idiopathic Headache is also very common, being usually distinguished by the name of nercous headache, sometimes coming on suddenly in a state of apparently sound health and prostrating at once the mental and physical energies, and in other instances it comes on slowly, heralded by depression of spirits or accribity of temper. In most instances the pain is in the front of the head, over one or beyon, and sometimes provoking vomiting; under yes, and sometimes provoking vomiting; unde his class may also be named Neuralgia. For the treatment of either class of Headacheth. Cephalic Pills have been found a sure and safe rem edy, relleving the most acute pains in a few minutes, and by its subtle power eradicating the diseases o which Headache is the unerring index.

BRIDGET .- Missus wants you to send her a box o Cephalic Glue, no, a bottle of Prepared Pills—but I'm thinking that's not just it naither; but perhaps ye'll be afther knowing whatit is. Ye see she's nigh dead and gone with the Sick Headache, and wants some more of that same as relaived her before.

Constipation or Cositiveness,

No one of the "many ills flesh is heir to" is so prev No one of the "many ills liesh is heir to" is so prevalent, so little understood, and so much neglected as Cositiveness. Often originating in carelessness, or sedentary habits; it is regarded as a slight disorder of too little consequence to excite anxiety, while in reality it is the precursor and companion of many of the most fatal and dangereous diseases, and unless early cradicated it will bring the sufferer to an untimely grave. Among the libety arise of the untimely grave. Among the lishter evils of which cositiveness is the usual attendant are Headache Colle, Rheumatism, Foul Breath, Piles, and others of like nature while along train of frightul diseases such as Malignant Fever, Abcesses, Dysentery, Diarrhoa, Dyspepsia, Apoplexy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Hystein, Hystein, Marchael, Paralysis, Paralysis, Hysteria, Hypochondriasis, Melancholy, and Insa ty, first indicate their presence in the system by this alarming symptom. Not unfrequently the diseases named originate in Constitution, but take on an independent existence unless the cause is cradicated in an early stage. From all these considerations it ollows that the disorder should receive immediate attention whenever it occurs, and no person should nealect to get a bo of Cephalic Pills on the first ap-pearance of the complaint, as their timely use will expel the insidious approaches of disease and de-stroy the dangerous foe to human life.

A Real Blessing. Physician.-Well, Mrs. Jones, how is that hea Mrs. Jones. - Gone! Doctor, all gone! the pill yo would send more so that I can have them handy.

Physician.—You can get them at any Druggist's.

Call for Cephalic Pills, I find they never fail, and recommend them in all cases of Headache.

Mrs. Jones.—I shall send for a box directly, and shall tell all my suffering friends for they are read. hall tell all my suffering friends, for they are a rea

TWENTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS SAVED .- Mr. Speldng bas sold two millions of bottles of his celebrated Prepared Glue and it is estimated that each bottle repared one and it is estimated that each bottle saves at least ten dollars worth of broken furniture thus making an aggregate of twenty millions of dol-lars reclaimed from total loss by this valuable inven-tion. Having made his Glue a household word, he now proposes to do the world still greater service by curing ail the aching heads with his Cephalic Pills, and if they are as good as his Glue, Headaches will oon vanish away like snow in July.

ES OVER EXCITEMENT, and the mental care and exiety incident to close attention to business or udy, are among the numerous causes of Nervous eadache. The disordered state of the mind and reasone. The unstructed scale of the mind and only, incident to this distressing complaint. Is a stal blow to all energy and ambition. Sufferers by his disorder can always obtain speedy relief from hese distressing attacks by using one of the Cephalic Pills whenever the symptoms appear. It quiete he overtasked brain, and soothes the strained and arring nerves, and relaxes the tension of the sto ach, which always accompanies and aggravates disordered condition of the brain.

THE RIVER was falling rather fast yes! THE RIVER WAS falling rather fast yesterday, with seven feet ten inches water in the causi, by the mark, at dark. During the previous twenty-four hours it had receded four inches at the head of the Falls, and one foot at Portland. On the Falls there were scant five feet water in the pass. The weather was clear and cold, with a keen Northwester prevailing.

At Cincinnati the river has fallen two feet since Saturday, with rainy weather Sunday.

Sunday.

At Pittsburg, yesterday, the river was rising rapidly, with fourteen feet water in the channel in the morning, as we learn by dispatches to coal dealers; at noon, it was still rising, with fifteen feet water in the channel. That is a good coalboat ide, and we learn that a fiect of coalboats, tugs, barges, and flats, have already started South, including six pair for the Messrs. Watson.

Watson.

Another run of coal is desirable, even from the Black port of Pittsburg, as it gives employment to thousands of people, and helps the steamboat interests. We understand, however, that there is an another than the property of road down South understand, however, that there is an abundant supply of coal down South, more than enough for the domand, with a prespect of a heavy falling off in the domand for Southern boats, as the great bulk of the cotton trade is over. Most of the cotton on Red river, Ouachita, and ributary streams has been sent to marke and a large number of the boats in those regions have laid up.

from her hard berth on the reef at the head of the falls. The Champion No. 3 was alongside with her pumps, and another barge-load of freight was taken off yester-day.

The Eunice, in charge of the gallant Captain John List, came in from Pittsburg and Wheeling, yesterday, with a good freight, including some 3,700 kegs of nails, for the South. She re-shipped 1 356 kegs of nails on the Mariner, for Menaphis. She has 1,510 kegs of nails for New Orleans, and 839 kegs for Vicksburg; also alot of lard. This freight was taken to Portland, last evening, to be re-shipped on the John Raine.

The Eunice returns to Wheeling and Pittsburg this evening. The clerk, Mr. Agnew, will be found polite and attentive.

THE SOUTHERN TARIFF.-"Honest Old The Southern Tariff.—'Honest Old Ape," the Abolition President from Illimois, must be a stupid "ape" as well, to judge from his Inaugural, as he evidently has not heard of the Southern Confederacy, or read the late returns from Texas on secession. He chattered about a Tariff when in Pittsburg, but has heard nothing of the Southern Tariff now just in operation. One of the provisions of this Tariff is important to steamboatmen and merchants, and reads as follows:

The new St. Louis boat, Ferd Kennett, on her first trip to New Orleans, passed Cairo last Thursday with about 1,300 tons. What a whopper!

The Imperial, from New Orleans

The Imperial, from New Orleans, arrived at St. Louis Sunday, and from the Republican of that date we copy the following river news:

The river, in the twenty-four hours ending at noon yosterday, had swelled two inches, and was fourteen feet five and a half inches above low water mark in D. cember last. There is fitteen feet in the channel out to Cairo.

The Illinois river is rising slowly, and is in good stage. The Upper Mississippi is open to Rock Island. There is four feet of water on the Lower Rapids. At Keokuk the river was still rising slowly when the Warsaw left. The Missouri river is open to Council Bluffs, and is in good stage.

The Lehigh left St. Louis Saturday or the Ohio river. The St. Louis Democrat, of yesterday, has the following in regard to the river and other items of interest:

Since our last the river has continued to rise slowly. To Cairo there is nearly twenty feet of water in the channel. Northward, to Hannibal. Quincy, Keokuk, Rock Island, Burton, &c., there is a fine stage of water, and the famous lower rapids are not an impediment.—The river is sopen to Rock Island, and perhaps to Dubuque. The Illinois is open to Lasalle, and the Missouri to Omaha, with plenty of water.

On Saturday evening the Sunshine, leaving for the Illinois, Ad. Hine just leaving for Keckak, and Illinois in berth just from New Orleans, by one of those inexplicable decrees of fate, had a collision—a trangular collision, which is a very unisual event. The two former, which were injured, lay up for repairs, which will cost the Sunshine considerable, and the Hine 8500.

The general market was rather quiet to The general market was rather quiet to-day, the demand for the verious articles being small. Flour was firm, and prices, if anything, were rather higher. The sales were 700 bils at $4.90@$5.60 for the various brands. Wheat is unchanged. Corn was dull, with only a moderate demand, principally for feeding. Oats are dull, with small sales. Whisky is unchanged. Groceries are quiet, with but a small demand.

The provision market was firm, though myers were disposed to hold off to awa the course things will take the next day the course things will take the next day or two, and consequently will not purchase above immediate wants. The sales to-day were limited to some 200 bbls of city packed at $17 25, at which price the market closed buoyant. The advices from the South and the East continue favorable, and at the close of the market prices had a tendency upward, and holders were less disposed to sell than in the morning. We are of the opinion that prices will soon advance, and that during the spring they will rule high. The demand for bacon was good, and the market closed very firm at the advance established Saturday, with sales of nearly 100 casks at 7%c for shoul ders, 9%c for rib sides, 10%@10%c for clear rib sides, and 10%c for clear sides. Bulk meats and lard were dull, with nothing doing. ing doing.

John Smidt & Co.'s Louisville To-bacco Circular.

bacco Circular.

The political troubles are still unadjusted, and financial matters have not improved during the last month. Most planters are in need if money, the failure of the crop of cereals and other productions in the tobacco regions, and leaving them but little to sell, and favored by a mild and open winter, which permitted them to handle and prize their tobacco without in terruption, they forced the article into inland markets at an early period.

The seaport markets not holding out particular inducements at present, we see an uncommonly large supply of tobacco in our sales. Prices for lugs and common leaf are, therefore sometimes barely maintained, but good qualities remain firm and continue to rule high, the new crop showing but little of it. Fat heavy leaf is very scarce.

Sweet old tobacco is as high as before, and is much sougat after.

real existence? Will you, while the certain ills you fly to are greater than all the real ones you fig from—will you risk the commission of so fearful a mistake? All profess to be content in the Union if all constitutional rights can be maintained. Is it true, then, that any right plainly written in the Constitution has been denied? I think not Happily, the human mind is so constituted that no party can reach to the audacity of doing this. Think, if you can, of a single instance in which a plainly written provision of the Constitution has ever been denied. If, by the mere force of numbers, a majority shall deprive a minority of any clearly written constitutional right, it President's Inaugural Address. Fellow-Citizens of the United States: In compliance with a custom as old as the Government itself, I appear before you to address you briefly and to take in your presence the oath prescribed by the Constitution of the United States, taken by the President before he enters upon the execution of his office. I do not consider it precessary at present for me to discuss a majority shall deprive a minority of an clearly written constitutional right, i might, in a moral point of view, justify revolution. It certainly would if such right were a vital one; but such is not ou case. All the vital rights of minoritie and of individuals are so plainly assure to them by affirmations and negotiations guarantees and prohibitions in the Constitution that controversies never arise controlled. t necessary at present for me to discr matters of administrati those matters of administration about which there is no especial anxiety or excitement. The apprehension seems to exist among the people of the Southern States that by the accession of a Republican Administration their property and their peace and personal security are to be endangered. There has never been any reasonable cause for such apprehension. utilon, that controversies never arise con-cerning them. There has never been any asonable cause for such apprehension: deed, the most ample evidence to the attract has all the while existed and been ent to their inspection. I believe sonable length ecutain, express provisions for all possible questions.

Shall fuglities from labor be surrendered by National or State authority? The Constitution does not expressly say. Must Congress protect slavery in the Territories? The Constitution does not expressly say. Whenever questions of this class spring up in our controversies, and we devide upon them into majorities and minorites, it the minority will not acquiesce the majority must, or the Government must case. There is no other alternative for continuing the Government but acquiescence on the one side or the other. If a minority in such case will secuce, or rather than acquiesce they make a precedent which in turn will divide and ruin them, a minority of their cwn will secede from them y to interfere with the institution of slave-y in the States where it exists. I believe I have no lawful right to do so, and I have no inclination to do so. Those who nom-nated and elected me did so with the full knowledge that I had made this and many similar declarations, and had never recent-ed them; and more they think the second them; and more than this, they p a the platform for my acceptance as a la o themselves and to me the clear and et chatic resolution which I now read: Resolved. nary litigation between parties in personal actions, the people will have ceased to be their own rulers, having to that extent practically resigned their government into the hands of that tribunal; nor is there in this view any assault upon the Court or Judges. It is a duty from which they may not shrink to decide cases properly brought before them, and it is no fault of theirs if others seek to turn their decisions to political purposes. I now reiterate these sentiments, and doing so, I only press upon the public at tention the most conclusive evidence of which the case is susceptible, that the property, peace, and security of no section are to be in any wise endangered by the now incoming Administration. I add, too that all the protection which now incoming Administration. I add, too, that all the protection which, consistently with the Constitution and the laws, can be given, will be cheerfully given to all the States when lawfully demanded, for whatever cause, as cheerfully to one section as to another. There is much controversy about the delivering of fugitives from service or labor. The clause I now read is as plainly written in the Constitutions as a plainly written in the Constitutions. nly written in the Constitution as her of its provisions.

sence of anarchy. A majority, held in restraint by constitutional checks and limitations, and always changing easily with the deliberate changes of popular opinions and sentiments, is the only true sovereign of a free people: whoever rejects it, does, of necessity, fly to anarchy or despotism. Unanimity is impossible; the rule of a minority, as a permanent arrangement is pority, as a permanent arrangement, wholly inadmissable, so that in rejecti "No person held to service or labor in one tate under the laws thereof, escaping into mother, shall, in consequence of any law or equiation therein, be discharged from such evice or labor, but shall be delivered up, or laim, to the party to whom such service or la or may be due." whonly madmissable, so that in rejecting the majority principle, anarchy and despotism in some form is all that is left. I do not forget the position assumed by some, that constitutional questions are to be decided by the Supreme Court. Nor do I deny that such decisions must be binding in any case upon the prities to a suit. As to the object of that suit, while they are also

It is scarcely questioned that this provision was intended by those who made it for the reclaiming of what we call fugitive slaves, and the intention of the law given, is the law all members of Congress swear their support to—the whole Constitution—to this provision as much as to any other. To the proposition, then, that slaves, whose cases come within the terms of this clause and shall be delivered up, their oaths are unanimous. Now if they would make the effort in good temper, could they not with equal nous. Now if they would make the car a good temper, could they not with eq manimity frame and pass a law by me for which to keen good that unanimous or infaminity frame and pass a law by means of which to keep good that unanimous oath. There is some difference of opinion whether this clause should be enforced by National or State authority, but surely that lifference is not a very material one; if the lave is to be surrendered, it can be of but title consequence to him or to exhaust consequence to him or to other which authority it is done, and should one in any case be content that his oat shall be unkept in a merely unsubstantia controversy as to how it shall be kept?— Again: In any law upon this subject bought not all the safeguards of liberty known in civilized and humane jurispru ace be introduced, so that a fre may not, in any case, be surrendered as a slave? And might it not be well, at the same time, to provide by law for the en-forcement of that clause in the Constitu-tion which guarantees that the citizens of each State shall be entitled to all the privigcs and immunities of citizens in the stal States? I take the official oath eral States? I take the official oath to-day with no mental reservations, and no purpose to construc the Constitution and laws by any hypercritical rules; and while I do not choose now to specify particular acts of Congress as proper to be enforced, I do suggest that it will be much safer for all in official and private stations to conform to, and abide by, all those acts which stand unrepealed, than to violate any of them, trusting to find impunity in laving them held to be unconstitutional.

for all in official and bide by, all those acts which stand unrepealed, than to violate which stand unrepealed is seen to a greatly distinguished citizens have, in succession, administered the Excentive branch of the Government, they have conducted it through many perils, and generally with great success. Yet with alf this scope for precedent, I now enter upon the same task for the brief constitution altern of four years, under great and the constitution, the Union of the Federal Union, hereful of the find that, in contemplation of universal law and the Constitution, the Union of the States is perpetual. Perpetulty is implied if not expressed in the fundamental law of all rational governments. It is safe to assert that the government proper never had a provision in its organic law for its own termination; and if it continues to execute all the express provisions of our naterial continued by some administry of the copy by some administry of the copy by some administry of the instrument itself. Zealn, if the Union will end the proposition of States in nature of contract merely, can it as a contract be peaceably unmade unless by all the parties who made it? One party to a contract may violate to treak it, so to speak, but does in our require all to lawfully research in the instrument itself. Zealn, if the Union will end the proposition, that in legal contemplation in 1776. shall never interfere with the domestic institutions of the States, including that of persons held to service. To avoid a misconstruction of what I have said, I depart from my purpose to speak of particular amendments so far as to say, that holding such a provision to the now implied as constitutional law, I have no objection to its being made express and irrevocable.

The Chief Magistrate derives all his authority from the people, and they have constitutions and the same constitutions of the chief Magistrate derives all his authority from the people, and they have constitutions. and revolutionary, according to circumstances. I therefore consider that, in view of the Constitution and the laws, the Union is unbroken; and to the extent of my ability shall take care (as the Constitution itself expressly enjoins upon me) that the laws of the Union be faithfully executed in all the States. Doing this, I deem it to be only a simple duty on my part, and I shall perform it, so far as practicable, unless my rightful masters—the American people—shall withhold the requisite means or in some authoritative manner direct to the contrary. I trust this will not be regarded as a menace, but only as a declared purpose of the Union that it will constitutionally defend and maintain itself in doing this. There need be no bloodshed nor violence, and there shall be none, unless it be forced upon the national authority. The power confided to me will be used to hold, occupy, and possess the property and places belonging to the Government, to collect duties and imposts; but beyond what may be necessary for these objects, there will be no using of force against or among people anywhere where hostility to the United States in any interior locality shall be so great and so universal as to prevent competent resident citizens from holding Federal offices. There will be no attempt to force obnexious strangers among the people that object. While the strict legal right translations.

This is the only substantial dispute; for the fugitive slave clause of the Constitution and the laws for the suppression of the foreign slave trade are each as well enforced perhaps as any law can ever be in a community where the moral sense of the people imperfectly supports the law itself. Will the great body of the people abide by the legal obligation in both cases as well after the separation of the sections as before? The foreign slave trade, now imperfectly suppressed, would be uitimately revived without restriction in one section, while fugitive slaves, now only partially appropriately suppressed, now only partially appropriately suppressed, now only partially appropriately suppressed the section of the sectio

Monday's Proceedings. WASHINGTON, March 4.—SENATE.—Discussion continued for some time between Messrs. MASON, DOUGLAS, and PUGH. Mr. MORRILL said when the Senator from Illinois shook his head in that quarter, he had a right to object. We are standing at the end of a six years' terrible agrication and it all comes from the trifling agitation, and it all comes from the triflin agitation, and it all comes from the triflin administration of bread pills, and is to en in the dissolution of the Union; and ye gentlemen propose to practice a new polic begun six years ago on the slavery ques upon it because it was Democratic, and seven of those States are now out of the Union. He disclaimed even the belief or the part of any body of men at the North, that Congress has the right to Interfere with slavery in the States. The Senator from Kentucky says the whole difficulty is in regard to the Territory of New Mexico. If that be so, it is really no difficulty, but here the recognition to the Constitution of the Con here is a proposition to amend the Consti-tution by recognizing slavery, and it is that against which the Senators protest.
